Exam Code: HP0-J16
Exam Name: Introduction to HP SANs
Vendor: HP
Version: DEMO
Part: A

1: What are the processing requirements of Information Lifecycle Management? (Select two.)
A.fast
B.secure
C.auditable
D.transparent
E.easy to use
Correct Answers: C D

2: In the context of storage infrastructure management, what is the definition of the term target?
A.a goal set for errors on a device
B.an entity that needs management
C.a disk or tape connected to a SCSI bus
D.a vendor-specific management tool that connects to a device
Correct Answers: B

3: To which category of target-based management tools does HP Systems Insight Manager belong?
A.system management
B.network management
C.storage systems management
D.operating system management
Correct Answers: A

4: Which features are provided by Information Lifecycle Management? (Select two.)
A.measures to protect data from corruption through its life cycle
B.technologies and processes to dispose of outdated storage equipment
C.technologies and processes to organize data based on size and sensitivity
D.processes that enforce data-retention policies and make decisions about appropriate data storage environments
E.technologies and processes that determine how to store, manage, and communicate information according to its business value
Correct Answers: D E

5: Which target-based management software is expected to be provided with the storage component?
A.OS management suites
B.system management suites
C.network management suites
D.device-specific management tools
Correct Answers: D

6: Which industry standard organization approved the Storage Management Initiative
7: Which tasks are associated with controlling a target in a storage infrastructure management environment?
A. discover, track, diagnose, and predict
B. diagnose, predict, repair, and migrate
C. configure, provision, repair, and migrate
D. report, bill, analyze, diagnose, and predict
Correct Answers: C

8: Because Information Lifecycle Management (ILM) interfaces with activities and people, there is a potential overlap between ILM and other areas. Which area is likely to overlap with ILM?
A. IT Budget Planning
B. IT Project Management
C. Business Financial Planning
D. Business Process Management
Correct Answers: D

9: What are benefits of model-based automation? (Select two.)
A. more control
B. cost effectiveness
C. better organization
D. support for complex operations
E. reduced likelihood of human error
Correct Answers: B E

10: What is a common method for handling multiple reporting and monitoring functions?
A. Use graphical reports to enhance interpretation.
B. Combine all information into one report for simplicity.
C. Separate low-level information reporting from higher-level analysis and decision making.
D. Use intelligent interfaces to offload reporting and decision-making from management software.
Correct Answers: C